CREAM OF NEWS.

IF IT IS NEW AND TRUE THIS COLUMN HAS IT.

Minor Killed—Fatal Shooting in Trigg—To-bacco Booming—Brahman Injured—Killing in Caldwell—Highwaymen Captured—Police—News—Base Ball, etc.

A Rare Aggregation.

The Clarksville—St. Louis—Louisville—Evansville base ball aggregation is here and the first of a series of games was played yesterday with our home nine. A detachment of the Tennesseans arrived Wednesday night, presumably to "shape" our boys for yesterday's contest, but the plan wouldn't work well. The 4:45 a. m. train yesterday brought in the western wing and at 9:52 a. m. the rear guard from Clarksville landed light'y. Clarksville is not playing her regular team, but has made a call from several other states and is confident that she can have us "rushed from the earth," but the Locals also have an opinion and are confident that they can win both games. The teams will play in the village on the Cumberland next Thursday and Friday, and a large crowd from the city will go over from the city and see the work well done. One of the largest crowds of the season witnessed the game yesterday, and to-day a much larger one is expected. Our boys are in line condition and expect to win every game from the "Great Southern Combination." When the games come off at Clarksville arrangements will be made to get the score by innings in this city by telephone.

Minor Crushed to Death.

Harry Cornice, a coal miner at work in the Empire mines, was instantly killed while at his work Tuesday morning. At the time of the accident Cornice was engaged in setting props in the mine, when a large piece of slate fell from the roof and struck him on the head knocking him down. In falling his jaw struck the track railing and was badly crushed. Physicians were summoned from Crofton, but Cornice died before they arrived. It was the opinion of the physicians that death was caused from the fall as the blow on the head was hardly sufficient to have produced such a result. Cornice was about 60 years old and had been engaged in mining coal for 40 years. He leaves a family.

Landed Them in Jail.

Sometime in last month it will be remembered that Essex Gupton, a colored boy of the Oak Grove neighborhood, was held up by highwaymen and relieved of his cash, about $7 in silver. Warrants were sworn out and placed in the hands of an officer at once, but nothing further could be heard from the suspected parties. Constable W. T. Brame, of Lafayette, was given a description of two of the negroes and on Tuesday he arrested Dave Crawford and Char Griffee and delivered them up to the jailer of the county. The two will have an examining trial before Judge Breathitt tomorrow. They answer the description of the robbers and the chances are they will have trouble in clearing themselves of the serious charge.

Tobacco Sales Still Booming.

The sales of the weed on this market continue very heavy and again this week the "thousand hoghead" notch was reached. The offerings consisted of every grade of tobacco and the demand was good for all the kinds in salable order. Good leaf ranged in the "teens." Common leaf ranged as high as $6 and lugs brought most satisfactory figures. The rejections amounted to but few hogheads. The market is very active on all grades and every variety goes with a rush. Reports from every section agree that the growing crop is far advanced for the season and bids fair to make a good one.

Another Shooting in Trigg.

CADIZ, July 11.—At a barbecue last Saturday at the Peyton Thomas place, on Donaldson creek, a row occurred between Eugene Moore and Sam Young, resulting in the shooting of the latter. The ball struck Young in the left side and is considered a fatal wound. In fact accounts he was still alive, but was thought to be rapidly sinking. Moore has not been arrested. The parties are well known Trigg county farmers.

Kicked by a Horse.

Last Tuesday afternoon Mr. H. M. Dalton was kicked by a horse and it was at first thought that his injuries would prove fatal, but he rallied and by Wednesday was able to be up. One of the animal's feet struck an arm and the other landed just over the right lung, but neither kick carried full force, or Mr. Dalton would have been instantly killed.

Ex-Governor Stevenson, of Idaho, committed suicide at Paradise Springs, Cal., Monday.

CRIME IN CALDWELL.

A Horrible Tragedy that Occurred Near Princeton.

PRINCETON, Ky., July 9.—One of the most awful tragedies that has occurred in the annals of Caldwell county took place near here last night which resulted in the death of one man and the probably fatal injury of another.

About midnight last night a crowd of eight men went to the house of Joseph Howerton, who lives seven miles north of here, and demanded admittance. The old man refused to grant their request until they made known their mission. He was talking with them through an open window and when he declined to comply with their request the crowd immediately opened fire upon him probably inflicting fatal wounds. They then proceeded to batter down the door of the house.

Hewitt Howerton, a son, made strong resistance, but was overpowered by numbers and taken a short distance from the house, where he was then most brutally murdered. The crowd then went back to the house and took Berry, a younger son, and after fearfully abusing him they threatened to kill him should he ever divulge the names of the parties, whom it is supposed Berry recognized.

The cause of the brutal outrage is not known, but it is asserted that the mob was composed of citizens of Hopkins county. The affair has created great indignation.

To Answer a Charge of Robbery.

Federal officers left for Louisville Tuesday with Jno. A. Coleman, who was arrested in this city last week on a warrant charging him with having robbed the postoffice at Jenny Lind, Ark., June 26 last, of a considerable sum of money and valuable mail matter. Coleman was taken before Judge Barr for identification, but the trial will take place at Fort Smith, Ark. The indictment contains several counts.

Oh! Pahaw, Another Girl!

BEUZARD'S BAY, July 8.—At Gray Gables, the quiet and picturesque summer home of President Cleveland at 4:30 yesterday afternoon a little girl was born unto Mrs. Cleveland. Dr. Joseph D. Bryant, the attending physician, to-night informed a reporter for the United States Press that both mother and child were doing well. This makes three girls in the President's family. Ruth is 4 and Esther 2 years old.

Three Libel Suits.

There are three libel suits set for the present term of the Todd county circuit court. Two of them are brought by Geo. T. Sadler, ex-cashier of the People's Bank of Guthrie, against the American Surety, of New York, and Bradberry Williams, their agent. Mr. Sadler asks for $2,000 in each case. The other is S. H. Sullivan against a Louisville Commercial. Mr. Sullivan asks for $50,000 damages.

Upset the Buggy.

The buggy in which Miss Beulah Edwards, daughter of Mr. E. W. C. Edwards, was driving, was struck by another vehicle and upset in the street just in front of the Kevorkian and office yesterday morning. Miss Edwards was caught under the top, but escaped injury. The buggy was only slightly damaged. The young lady had a very narrow escape.

Police Court Proceedings.

The following business was disposed of in the Police court Tuesday: Walker Mason, mule stealing, dismissed; John Nourse, col., breach of peace, fined $6; Aaron Rice, col., suspect, discharged; Sam Metlock, col., breach of peace, dismissed; Maggie Cronce, col., street walking, 11 days in the work house.

Verdict for Miss Tate.

MORGANFIELD, July 10.—The jury in the case of Miss Addie Tate vs. the Messenger company, of Owensboro, returned a verdict just before noon awarding $500 damages to the plaintiff. Under the instructions the jury could only adjudge actual damages unless malice was shown. She sued for $5,000. The case will be appealed by the defendant.

Delaney Case Continued.

Monday was the day set for the trial of George Delaney at Morganfield, but the case was continued until the seventh day of the November term of court, on account of the absence of George Henry, a very important witness.

His Injuries Fatal.

Mr. Lewis Potter, of Bowling Green, who broke his thigh in an accident last week, died Monday from his injuries. He was 85 years old and very wealthy.

Miss Vida Warder, of Glasgow, and Miss Mary Garrett, of Pembroke, are visiting Miss Katie Graham, at Caaky.

NOT YET NAMED.

THE EDDYVILLE CONVENTION DOWN TO HARD WORK.

One Hundred and Fifty Ballots Taken on Wednesday, But no Candidate Gave the Number Necessary to Nominate. The Matter Likely Settled Last Night.

EDDYVILLE, July 10.—The convention was organized at 1 p. m. to-day by the election of Chas. H. Bush, of Christian, as temporary chairman, elected without opposition.

On motion committees on organization, resolutions and credentials were appointed, consisting of five members each, one from each county and the fifth named by the chair.

These committees reported in about thirty minutes, the interval being filled in with speeches by Charlie Wheeler, Ollie James, Bill Reed and other visiting politicians.

The credentials committee reported 30 delegates from Calloway, 15 from Christian, 18 from Trigg and 32 from Lyon. There were no irregularities and the report was promptly adopted.

The committee on organization reported Judge Robt. Crenshaw, of Trigg, for permanent chairman, and W. W. Martin, of Lyon, for secretary, with the Democratic members of the district press, present as delegates, as assistants. This report was also adopted in short order, without objection.

The committee on resolutions reported as follows:

We, the Democracy of the third judicial district of Kentucky in convention assembled, endorse the action of the district committee in calling this convention and accept the basis of representation as fixed by the district committee.

RESOLVED, That we reaffirm our allegiance to the Democratic party and accept and endorse the principles enunciated by the recent state convention at Louisville June 25, 36.

RESOLVED, That we heartily commend the ticket nominated by said convention to the Democracy of this district and call upon all Democrats to give it their earnest and loyal support.

RESOLVED, That we endorse the able and patriotic administration of our present state officials and express our full confidence in the purpose of the Democratic party to continue an honest and economical administration of state affairs.

This report was unanimously submitted and adopted without discussion.

The nomination of candidates was begun at 2 p. m. Judge L. C. Linn was named by T. A. Miller and seconded by Rev. Hoover.

Judge T. J. Morrow was presented by C. H. Bush and R. Howell in the best speech of the afternoon.

Judge T. J. Watkins was nominated by Capt W. J. Stone and seconded by E. H. James.

Col. R. B. Burnett was done a like service by Judge Robt. Crenshaw and Geo. W. Quick.

The speeches occupied about an hour and at 3 p. m. the balloting was begun. The vote stood Linn 8, Morrow 12, Watkins 4, Burnett 5. The roll calls continued for an hour, the monotony being broken occasionally by complimentary votes back and forth and for outside. After 50 ballots the convention adjourned till 8 p. m. Reassembling at night, the voting was resumed for an hour and 100 more ballots taken. At 10 p. m. the 150th ballot Trigg moved to adjourn and Lyon and Christian voted for the motion, the convention adjourning until 9:30 tomorrow morning. The convention is at this writing hopelessly deadlocked, with no end in sight.

Christian, Lyon and Calloway have the unit rule and Trigg alone has an open delegate.

The delegates are all well cared for and are having a good time. Every body keeps in a good humor and there has been no bad feeling engendered so far. The situation is represented by the following declaration:

Delegates, C. H. Bush, W. R. Howell, W. T. Cooper, Jno G. Childress, Buckner Lowmiller, R. T. Peck, Frank Rives, W. A. Wilgus, L. C. Gravens, Chas. M. Meacham, T. M. Barker and P. M. Winfree. Alternates present, L. L. Nichols, M. S. Major and J. T. Haubert. J. B. Allenworth and M. L. Elb are also on hand.

Frost and Snow in July.

Ice formed on water in tubs in the region around Sioux City, Iowa, Tuesday morning and there was light frost in low places in South Dakota. There was also some snow in Wisconsin, but it remained on the ground only a short while. No damage to crops has been reported. The temperature fell 45-deg rees in two hours time.

Three hundred employees of the Pullman shops at Ludlow, Ky., have received an increase of 10 per cent, in wages.

The Chautauqua Fair.

LEXINGTON, Ky., July 4.—This national day is truly a gala day in this city. On Main street one might imagine himself traveling the renowned Broadway and trying by main force and awkwardness to thread his way through the struggling mass of humanity.

Soon, however, the crowd is gradually transferred by elegantly finished electric cars to the celebrated Chautauqua grounds at Woodland Park. This is the most beautiful spot of the kind in the State and Lexington is justly proud of it. An auditorium seating more than 3,000 persons, a Ministerial Hall and other public buildings for the use of testifiers and instructors, adorn the interior, while rustic seats under the shadows of the trees are temptingly placed for lovers of quiet measure and those who may wish to meditate on the true beauties of nature; also in the midst of which is the band stand, and from which the morning, afternoon and evening air vibrates with some stirring and patriotic airs.

Around the outer circle of Woodland park may be seen some 40 or 50 tents, these are for the convenience and pleasure of those who wish to take advantage of the entire Chautauqua course, or who with a congenial party of friends desire to spend the time amidst such an array of musical and intellectual treats.

This fourth of July has been the banner day of any ever held in this city. Some 15,000 people have visited the grounds during the day. The program for the day was a very interesting and profitable one.

Beginning at 8 o'clock in the morning a famous Indian band made the air echo our patriotic airs; at 9 o'clock, Biblical Exposition—"Healing the Nobleman's Son"—Dr. Parkhurst. It is worth while to mention that it is creditable to the Chautauqua Assembly, having secured the services of such a man throughout the season. Following Dr. Parkhurst was a lecture not soon to be forgotten by the Statesman orator, Gen. John B. Gordon—"The Last Days of the Confederacy." An audience of about 6,000 greeted him with waving handkerchiefs and eager, smiling faces, many wishing to catch a first glimpse of the great confederate general.

Again in the afternoon no less a person than the gifted Dr. T. DeWitt Talmage took the stand and commenced by saying that he had once been taken by a man who had been Henry Clay's barber for a near relation of that honored gentleman. Dr. Talmage discoursed in a masterly way on the resources of America, her doing great things and becoming a greater nation than she now is. Many and hearty were the hand shakes he received.

Concluding the lectures again came the evening band concert, and while the music was in the air those on the grounds spread their lunches and discoursed on the passing pleasures. The grounds were filled with big grass beauties (and you know (?) it takes that to make the fourth or any other day a success) who animated the whole scene.

The exercises of the evening began promptly at 7:30 o'clock with the celebrated Arion Lady Quartette, of Chicago, who charmed the audience with the rendition of the national airs, "Old Kentucky Home," "Dixie," etc. They were recalled again and again. Then came the renowned Miss Julia Phelps, the famous Baptist, of Chicago. The grand concert was concluded with a violin solo by Prof. Neville. This musical program was a delightful treat to all, and crowds by hundreds from the city enjoyed it.

Concluding the fourth at Chautauqua was the "Last of the Mohicans," illustrated by tableaux vivans or living pictures. Many of the crowd could not get into the auditorium, and so missed this part of the entertainment. The grand finale consisted of fireworks, making in all the grandest day ever held at the Chautauqua grounds. Everyone went home pleased with the day's program and also "that tired feeling."

In addition to the Chautauqua Lexington's population was still further increased by those attending the trot; and an enjoyable day was spent at the German picnic the most amusing features of which were the pony race, mule race, wheelbarrow race, apple eating contest, which latter deserves some explanation. The apples were suspended across the track; the contestants' hands were tied from behind and the first who disposed of his apple received the prize.

Another amusing game was the spring board jump into a sack containing flour. You can realize the fun until you see the winner as he is. The waltz contest also attracted much interest. The two most graceful waltzers received a prize.

This account gives one but a small idea of the fourth as it was observed here. T. D. A.

Robt. Ford Loses a Foot.

Robt. Ford, a brakeman on freight train No. 59, on the L. & N. road, met with a serious accident at Sebree Monday which will cripple him for life. He had run ahead of the train and makes a change in the switch and by some means his left foot slipped and went under the wheels of the train just as it passed him, mashing it in a horrible manner. Dr. J. H. Letcher, the head surgeon was summoned from Henderson and successfully amputated the injured foot just above the ankle, and Ford's chances for recovery are considered good.

A Hopkinsville Man Drowned.

(Clarkeville Leaf-Chronicle.)

"Sunday during the high water in Spring Creek, near Taylor's old mill, Lige Meriwether, a negro man about 25 years of age, attempted to cross the creek on horse back, and was pulled off the animal by the strong current and drowned. The horse succeeded in getting out. Meriwether was unable to stem the high tide, and his body was found the next morning in a drift pile some distance below the ford." Meriwether formerly lived in this city, but went to Tennessee several years ago.

IMPORTANT!

To the Citizens of Hopkinsville and Christian County.

For a Hopkinsville and Christian county institution we ask your inspection and patronage of our new and elegant boarding, feed and sale stable just completed for us on 9th street, near the L. & N. R. R. depot, which will be found to be the largest, best equipped and handsomest establishment of the kind in the city, or in the entire south.

WE GUARANTEE such good care and treatment of your horses as you can find nowhere else, as one visit to our stable will convince you. For either permanent or transient board, or when your horse may become lame or sick, we also guarantee you such attention for his cure, you cannot find any where else.

ON THE GROUND FLOOR, 40 feet wide by 110 feet long, with wide carriage-way in center from end to end. We have sixteen box stalls, which for room, light, pure air and ventilation, and all the most modern appointments will be found unequalled for the comfort of horses, will feed the best that money can buy, and the best personal attention given for their welfare. All the stalls on the ground floor are for boarding and feeding horses alone.

In the front part of the building on the ground floor we have fitted up also a handsome ladies' parlor, newly furnished with all the necessary conveniences for the comfort of our city and country lady friends when they call and for their exclusive use.

ON THE UPPER FLOOR, 40 feet wide by 90 feet long, we devote exclusively to the special care and treatment of horses which may be lame or sick—but no animal admitted to any part of our stable which has any contagious disease or suspected of having such.

We have been known long enough in Hopkinsville to establish our reputation for the best class of services and breeders of horses as successful Veterinary Surgeons, and in our new building have unsurpassed facilities, and with all the latest and most improved appliances in the veterinary profession, have every convenience for attending to all cases in the best manner possible, and having been specially educated for it, with diplomas from the celebrated Veterinary College in Toronto, Canada, have confidence in offering our services to all who have not yet called upon us.

In all cases of lameness, sickness we ask you particularly to call upon us at once if you wish your horse cured, and not delay until some ignorant fool or fraud (in attempting to cure your horse) has done him probable harm and rendered him probably beyond human skill for recovery.

OUR CHARGES ARE STRICTLY MODERATE in all departments, to rich and poor alike.

WE BUY, SELL AND EXCHANGE HORSES, and make examinations as to soundness when required by intending purchasers.

We do not hire out or lend horses or vehicles of any description, but leave that to lively stable keepers.

For the patronage we receive we are grateful and hope to merit a continuance.

Citizens of Hopkinsville and Christian county may now understand we have come to stay and are permanently settled here, offering such advantages in the care of horses (whether well or sick) never enjoyed in Hopkinsville before, in a building citizens can point to with some degree of pride and satisfaction as unequalled.

Mules, cows and all domestic animals treated when sick. We attend to sales at any hour, day or night, in city or county, promptly.

Dr. C. C. Osborn, Lowell, Mass.
"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not distant when I shall be able to consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their lives, and, by forcing opium, morphia, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

fainting, but Mrs. Grindlay with exquisite tact, though she saw nothing of contrivances, laid her hand on the count's arm and led him away, saying with a pleasant smile to Elsie: "You must go to the children, dear, they are just wild to see you."

"In heaven's name, man," gasped Woodgrove, incredulously shocked. "do you know what you have done?" "Perfectly well do I know what I have done," Grey answered gravely but firmly. "What man is no more a German baron than I am. He is—"

"Who?"
"Herr Schlossinger, the socialist!"

"The old man was so much of a Jew for a few moments he could not speak."

"Are you sure?" he asked. "May it not have been a case of mistaken identity?"

"Nay, I am certain."
"What is to be done?"

"I cannot say. I only know what Elsie and I are going to do. We shall start at once back to the hotel."

"But, Marston, surely we must not leave her in his clutches?"

"For to-night, at least, we must; for to risk a scene here would be frightful."

When morning came Mr. Woodgrove announced his intention of going at once to his niece, but meanwhile Frank had been up with the lark and prepared his batteries before he opened them upon the formidable German, whose hold on the enraptured widow he forebode would be too tenacious to be shattered by any unstatistical testimony of his. A telegram to Col. Gilchrist, the reformer and editor of the Chicago Labor Times, had brought back the sharp response:

"Schlossinger abandoned some months ago with funds of our society. Warrant out for his arrest. Has left without medical supplies what is known as regular police, yet we are free to confess that the police of Chicago has won us to look with favor upon it."

Armed with this important misgiving the two gentlemen made their way to the Fifth avenue mansion.

Early as it was, to Mr. Woodgrove's disgust, the widow was unapproachable, and Schlossinger had been delegated to receive them.

"Herr Schlossinger," Frank began at once plunging in medias res with a stern resolution to hurry through a disagreeable duty. "I have this day received a communication from Col. Gilchrist, of Chicago, in which he informed me that you had been received by five children here destitute. Cause police to detain him."

"Grandfather!" Elsie cried, with quivering lips, as she flew to his arms. Again and again he kissed her, and it was long before the first passion of the meeting had subsided and their nerves were sufficiently under restraint to enable them to sit and converse like rational beings.

"It seemed a long time to poor Frank, who all deserted at in the great drawing-room devoured with anxiety about his girl-wife, who had disappeared into the night."

"Nay, for his own sake, I am sure," said Sir Gordon Hillborough, grasping the young man's hand warmly. "But, Elsie, the whole thing is a terrible state of affairs. I had been told he was an American."

"And so I am, sir," Frank declared stoutly. "Yet, really now you look—"

"Oh," cried Elsie, merrily, "I do believe grandfather expected to see an American of the stage, with avoirdupois coat and nasal drag, who would saddle him into buying wooden nutcrackers and sawing horses."

"I am reproved, my dear, but surely this young man is not a type of his countrymen, is he, child?"

"No, verily, I am not," said Elsie, laughing. "There are tens of thousands of better men than I am in the land I came from."

"There is not one," said Elsie. [THE END.]

Elsie will never forget that little drive to the Scotch Abbey. She had to place that in that short half-mile she had at least a dozen originals of the daintiest esquisses that ever graced the pages of the English poet's own rhapsody.

At length the park gates were reached and the carriage swept up the broad driveway under the elms, starting the door, and when the old Elizabethan house rose to view, the enchanter girl could not repress a cry of pure delight.

Servants met the carriage as it dashed under the broad portico and they were ushered into a drawing-room, there to meet the flower of the old man at whose request they had journeyed so far over land and sea.

Nor was their patience tried, for ere long an old servant entered and respectfully begged that Mrs. Grey would follow him.

"Governess, he's not in," sniggered Gordon, "an' as I'm not wanted to do the introduction, I guess I'll go back to the Bull's Head and wait orders. I ain't achin' for an interview."

Frank gladly excused him. Meanwhile Elsie Grey stood in the great library facing her grandfather—years before her mother's uncle had been the infamous compact that had condemned her childhood to the care of humble strangers.

She looked nervously at the tall, stooping figure before her. How different he was from the man she had pictured. His face wore so sweet an expression, his voice was so low and musical that all fear died from her on the instant.

"My child, my dear, dear child!" he faltered.

"Grandfather!" Elsie cried, with quivering lips, as she flew to his arms.

Again and again he kissed her, and it was long before the first passion of the meeting had subsided and their nerves were sufficiently under restraint to enable them to sit and converse like rational beings.

"It seemed a long time to poor Frank, who all deserted at in the great drawing-room devoured with anxiety about his girl-wife, who had disappeared into the night."

METAL PRODUCTION LAST YEAR

Statistics Compiled by the Engineering and Mining Journal.

The statistics of the mineral and metal production of the United States in 1894, compared with its output in 1893, have been compiled with care and were published recently by the Engineering and Mining Journal.

The value of the mineral and metal production of the United States in 1894 and 1893 was as follows: 1893, $15,546,500; 1894, $15,537,500; decline $9,000, or 9 per cent. This great falling off was, however, due far more to lower prices than to lessened quantity of the products. Thus the value of our coal production declined last year $13,738,825, or 7 per cent., while in quantity it fell off only 6,250,700 short tons, or 3 1/2 per cent. This comparatively small decline in the volume of coal produced is a substantially a measure of the whole mineral output of the country.

The copper output increased 8 per cent. from 377,355,788 pounds in 1893 to 408,504,814 pounds in 1894, though in value it declined no less than $1,039,508, or 4 1/2 per cent.

The production of gold declined from $5,365,000 in 1893 to $3,701,205 in 1894, but the commercial value of the silver produced increased from $47,311,400 in 1893 to $49,531,100 in 1894, a fall of $1,507,220, or 34 per cent. This was nearly due to a reduced production, only 500,000 ounces in 1893 and only 49,846,875 ounces in 1894, but the price also declined from 78.3 cents per ounce in 1893 to 63 cents in 1894.

Pig iron showed a heavy decline in quantity, from 7,047,384 long tons in 1893 to 6,207,388 tons in 1894, but the value declined much more than the quantity, from $28,888,800 in 1893 to $21,066,908 in 1894, a falling off in value of 27 per cent., and in quantity only 5 1/2 per cent.

The value of spelter declined $1,000,000, though the quantity produced fell off only 150 tons.

On the whole the mineral industry of the United States has made a highly satisfactory record in 1894 in the quantity produced over such an enormous shrinkage of values. With prices higher before than they are now, and in the majority of cases lower than the products are now produced elsewhere in the world, the output has declined but little. The low prices no doubt maintained a large consumption, and owing to prevailing prosperity and prices, the producers will reap the harvest for which they planted in the hard times.

NO SUICIDE FOR HIM.

World Was as Full of Luck as Could Be in His Estimation.

He was a disconsolate looking man, says the Detroit Free Press, and he had been hanging about the wheel of the Cleveland lines so long that a policeman finally accosted him with:

"You don't want to attempt any monkey business around here, do you?"

"What do you mean?" asked the man. "Don't take no header into the river."

"What's going to take a header? I guess there's law to prevent a man looking at the water."

"That's all right," muttered the officer, "but if you contemplate suicide—"

"I don't want to suicide for," demanded the stranger.

"I dunno. You seem to be hard up and full of trouble."

"I do, officer. I shows all you know about it. Here's how hard up I am—a roll figuring up three hundred and fifty dollars. Here's how full of trouble I am—a letter from a widow worth fifty thousand dollars saying she'll marry me on the 15th of next month. I'm feeling so blamed good that I can hardly keep from yelling and yet you talk about suicide! You'd better get off and chew a rag!"

The officer drew his club and looked at him in a longing way, but finally decided to spare him till another time.

The Great Air Whale.

The native inhabitants of the Fiji Islands believe thunder to be the bellying of the great air whale, a mythical creature which, according to their folk lore stories, inhabits the opposite side of all thunder clouds. If the regulation thunder cloud appears unaccompanied by the ominous rumblings peculiar to such phenomena, they take it as a token that the Great Spirit is pleased with their past doing. If, however, on the other hand, the detonations be frequent and violent, they are sure that the God of the elements is displeased and immediately engage themselves in all sorts of ludicrous incantations for the purpose of arousing matters. Lightning is to them the result of the air whale gnashing his teeth together and thus sending fire. Another peculiarity of this primitive people lies in the fact that they will not partake of food while a thunder cloud is in sight, fearing that the air whale will pounce upon and devour them, or such irreverence.

Made a Goddess.

It is possible for any Chinaman, or even any Chinese woman, to become a deity by paying for the honor. A few years ago a rich and devout Chinese man died, leaving a large fortune. His friends thought that an apotheosis was no more than her due and communicated with the priest who interviewed the man on the subject and discovered that the God of the Left Little Toe Nail had no wife. The old lady was accordingly adopted to his goddess and is now enrolled as the "Goddess of the Left Little Toe Nail." The honor cost the old lady's estate over five thousand dollars.

Velocity of Meteorites.

It is no longer that stones which fall from the regions of space are fired by the impact when they strike our atmosphere. Astronomers estimate that they fall with a velocity of at least sixty thousand miles per second. This extraordinary speed is best understood by comparing it with a ball from a modern cannon which now travels with a velocity of about three hundred miles per second.

St. Vitus' Dance Checked—A Loving Daughter Saved.

(From the Kansas City, Mo. Journal.)

One of the greatest causes of interest to the Journal and its readers, because the case is of great value from a medical point of view and further because it is so recent and in truth absolutely proven. The case deals with a little girl, the daughter of L. L. Barber of Elberton, Kan., who being duly sworn on each deposit and says:

During the summer of the current year, 1893, my daughter Berlie, aged 13 years, became afflicted with a nervous ailment which grew upon her to such an extent that it seriously interfered with her studies, and caused the greatest fear that it would develop into St. Vitus' dance. My daughter became so nervous that she would drop her hands and feet while sitting, and would at times be seized with nervous twitches which caused the greatest fear that it would develop into St. Vitus' dance.

From the very first dose a marked improvement in my daughter's condition was noted, and she became able to study and to play, as is common to subjects from nervous ailments, and her nervousness began to disappear. After a careful and thorough trial of the pills, she began to feel better, and her nervousness began to disappear. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have certainly brought a wonderful and complete cure, and I can say nothing too good in their favor. But this is away from a visit, and I would not have thought of being able to do three months ago. From being shrinking, nervous and timid she has become a strong, healthy girl with no appearance of ever having been afflicted with the St. Vitus' dance. The pills have done wonders, and I take great pleasure in recommending them to all who are afflicted with nervous ailments. (Signed) L. L. BARBER.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 14th day of August, 1895.

W. H. KELLY, Notary Public, Elberton, Kan.

What Army Buttons Signify.

Different Designs and Styles According to the Rank of the Officers.

The interrelation of the buttons on a uniform is just as much a matter of regulation as the cut of a coat. The general wears two rows of buttons on the breast of his frock coat, twelve in each row placed by fours. The distance between the rows is five and a half at the bottom. The lieutenant general is entitled to only ten buttons on each row placed by fours. The brigadier general, eighth, in groups of two. The colonel, lieutenant colonel and major have nine buttons in each row, and the lieutenant colonel and the major have equal distances.

There are different designs of course, not only for the buttons of the army, the navy and marine corps, but for the different branches of the service. These are the infantry, artillery and cavalry buttons, the engineers' buttons, the ordinary corps button, and the button for the marine corps and the navy button. The navy button is made in England, because no American manufacturer is able to reproduce a bronze which the sea air will not tarnish. All of these buttons the army and navy tailor must keep on hand and send on according to regulation.

"The Younger the Better."

The Washington Post of Washington is fond of young girls, the younger the better, and the authors of "The Show at Washington" tell this little story of how he was fascinated by the vivacious ten-year-old granddaughter of Senator Palmer: He saw her at a reception one afternoon, and, asking for an introduction, devoted himself to the little maiden while he remained. Everybody crowded about, but all unconcerned, through his interpreter, he carried on an interesting conversation with the equally unembarrassed little girl. The next day the minister's carriage drove up in front of Senator Palmer's door and the minister of the day, in a packet containing six exquisite silk handkerchiefs, embroidered in the highest style of Chinese art, and ten little chests of the kind of tea which Chinese gods, on a Chinese Olympus, make Chinese nectar of.

An Old English Chestnut Tree.

It is said that the largest chestnut tree known in the world is at Mount Etna, Sicily, and that it is the oldest and most remarkable tree in Great Britain is a chestnut at Torworth, the residence of the earl of Duane, near Newry. In the reign of Henry, who ascended the throne in 1135, it was, according to the Naturalist's Journal, deemed so remarkable for its size that it was placed on the map, and was well known as a signal boundary to the Manor of Torworth. It seems probable that this tree is a thousand years old at least. It is still in a very vigorous, and last year produced a large crop of nuts. It measures nearly fifty feet in circumference; the body is short and stout, and the trunk is very irregular, then it divides into three huge trunks, one of which measures nearly thirty feet in girth.
